GM, UAW Still Apart

UNION OFFICIALS IN PESSIMISTIC MOOD; CONFERENCE IS HELD

LOCALS TOLD ISSUES OF WAGES, PROMOTION PREFERENCE REMAIN

DETROIT, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers and General Motors Corp. still were far apart on the issue of wages and promotion preference, top union officials said today as negotiations looking to a settlement of the 93-day strike were resumed this morning.

The UAW-CIO officials gave out a telegram addressed to all General Motors locals throughout the country urging them to "hold your line and disregard rumors."

"Straight-Through" Talks

Special Federal Mediator James F. Dewey, intimated that today's session, might "continue straight through" until some decision was reached.

Although he made no prediction, Dewey said he would not rule out possibility of a settlement today.

He would not discuss what issues had been thrashed out, but earlier meetings had ended with UAW and GM spokesmen disputing three main issues—union security, promotion preference and wages.

No comment was forthcoming from GM officials, but UAW Vice President Walter P. Reuther declared, "we made some progress today on one basic point."

The union wanted contract stipulations for maintenance of union membership and recognition of seniority in promotions and transfers.

At last reports the union was demanding a 19 1-2 cent hourly wage boost (17 1-2 per cent) as opposed to GM's offer of an 18 1-2-cent raise (16 1-2 per cent). Originally the UAW demanded a 30 per cent increase.

Aluminum Plants Leased To Kaiser By Government

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—The war assets corporation announced today the lease of two government aluminum plants at Spokane, Wash., to the Kaiser-Fraser Corporation and Kaiser Cargo, Inc., subject to approval by the attorney general.

The corporation said the Trentwood Aluminum Rolling mill will be leased to Kaiser-Fraser and the aluminum reduction plant to Kaiser Cargo for five years on an annual rental basis at terms which give the two companies option to purchase.

HOUSTON IS WITHOUT GARBAGE SERVICE AS CITY EMPLOYES OUT

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 21—(AP)—Violence flared in the city empuoyes strike at noon today when strikers threw bricks, rocks and metal pipe at truck drivers as they left the City Garage to go to work for the street and bridge department.

Police arrested five negroes and two white men.

Five recruited employes started out of the garage plant gate in three trucks and were met by a hail of bricks and stones, thrown by a group of strikers gathered around the Gillette street gate.

More than 25 were seen throwing at the truck drivers as they started through the mob, it was reported. No one was injured.

Pickets and police showed up at the City Garage early today, but no garbage truck drivers or helpers reported and the city's 47 garbage trucks remained immobile as the city-county union's strike against the city for higher wages went into its second day.

A charge that garbage workers have been "intimidated" by the union was made by City Manager J. M. Nagle, who has refused to recognize the strike and is seeking to replace the striking workers.

Meanwhile, a threat to extend union picket lines to private repair shops that have been repairing police cars since union mechanics walked out at the City Garage was made by O. L. Duncan, union president.

"We are going to operate, regardless," Police Lieut. Fred Cochran told Duncan firmly.

On the question of whether or not "strikes against the government" are legal, which City Attorney Lewis Cutrer is now briefing at Nagle's request, the city "may go to court and make some law," the City Manager said today.

The threat to garbage service is the most serious immediate danger the city faces, Nagle admitted. Every effort to resume service as soon as possible will be made, he promised.

U. S. REASSURED BY TRUMAN THAT LEAKS OF SECRETS BLOCKED

SECURITY MEASURES TERMED "ADEQUATE" FOR PROTECTION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—President Truman told his news conference today that security measures in this country are adequate to protect secret military information. He added that these measures have been adequate in the past and he thinks they still are.

Replying to reporters' questions about disclosures that certain secret information in Canada had leaked to Russian sources, the President said Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King told him first about the investigation in that country. This was before the November meeting in Washington on atomic energy between the President, Mackenzie King, and British Prime Minister Clement Attlee, Mr. Truman said

PRESIDENT SPIKES RUMORED REPORTS OF SHIFT IN CABINET

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—President Truman said today he is not ready to announce a successor to Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes and spiked reports that a cabinet shift is in the making.

He told a news conference he had discussed the interior post with Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, but left up in the air whether Douglas would get it or even whether he had been offered the job.

At one point, he appeared to have ruled out Douglas because he said he did not want to have two cabinet members from Washington State. Lewis B. Schwellenbach, secretary of labor is from that state.

But he made this comment when asked whether Gov. Mon C. Wallgren of Washington, a former senate colleague, is under consideration for Ickes' place. Mr. Truman said Wallgren would make a good secretary of the interior, but you can't have two cabinet members

REHABILITATION AND LIBERATION OF NAZIS MAY PRESENT BIGGER JOB FOR ALLIES THAN DID WAR

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler.

HEREFORD, Germany, Feb. 21.—When you get a close view of the rehabilitation and the democratization of Germany under allied supervision, you wonder whether on the whole this task doesn't present even greater problems than the smashing of the mighty Hitlerian military machine.

Here in the British zone, we find the problem being attacked along two main lines. One has as its objective the raising of the standard of living to the level laid down by allied agreement—a long term job. The other is the re-education of the German people.

The administration bears the hall-mark of Field Marshal Montgomery, who only recently relinquished supervision here to become chief of the imperial general staff.

It is noticeable that there is no coddling of the Germans. The toughest spot in the vital educational program is the group of people between the ages of 14 and about 35, for they are the Hitlerized element.

So the British are setting up democratic nistitutions. These include universities and schools. The creation of trade union on craft basis is being encouraged.

REDS FRANKLY ADMIT OBTAINING "SECRET DATA"—UNIMPORTANT

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Russia, frankly admitting that its representatives had obtained "secret data" in Canada, maintained the information was "insignificant" and accused the Canadina government of fostering an "unbridleg anti-Soviet campaign."

"The Soviet military attache in Canada received from acquaintances among Canadian citizens certain information of a secret character which, however, did not present a special interest to Soviet authorities," the Russian government said in a statement broadcast last night over the Moscow radio.

The statement indicated the information concerned Radar and atomic energy.

At the same time, the statement said, Russia deemed it "necessary to call attention to the campaign, hostile to the Soviet Union, which has started in the Canadian Press and radio. x x x The position taken

Telephone Workers Continue Study Of Exact Strike Date

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 21.—(AP)—The National Federation of Telephone Workers this morning sought to consolidate its ranks on the question of setting a strike deadline.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the NFTW, asserted he was not in favor of setting a strike date at this time, while a spokesman for the opposition said "there is still strong sentiment in favor of a strike call."

John J. Moran, president of the federation of long line telephone workers, appeared as spokesman for 17 of the federation's 50 affiliates urging more direct action. Moran told newsmen that some of the delegates want to delay strike action while others "want a date set definitely—and pretty soon, too."

Meanwhile, Beirne has appealed for government intervention in the wage and hour dispute involving one-quarter million of the nation's telephone workers.

Definite Date Asked.

The debate was set off yesterday by a request for a definite strike call date by leaders of 17 unions which have already complied with the Smith-Connally act by filing strike notices last month. They represent about 150,000 workers.

Included in the group is the Western Electric Employes Association which called its 17,000 members out of 21 Western Electric plants in New York and Northern New Jersey Jan. 3.

The general assembly has already authorized the federation's executive board to order a walk-

Marines Pay Price For Release Pleas —Three "Busted"

n PEARL HARBOR, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Three marine sergeants and three corporals were reduced to privates today after they circulated a petition which disapproved of marine corps discharge policy and demanded more information on leatherneck demobilization plans.

Announcing this as "the final action contemplated" in the week-old case, Lt. Gen. Roy S. Geiger, Pacific fleet marine commander, said the demotions were not punishment for the six men.

"The individuals concerned have demonstrated their unfitness to be non-commissioned officers," he declared.

The six marines were demoted on the recommendation of a board convened by Maj. Gen. J. T. Moore, commander of the air fleet of the Pacific marine force and in charge of the Ewa Air Station in northwest Oahu, where the six men were stationed.

The board ruled that the marines participated in the protest

CATHEDRAL AND ARMY BARRACKS ATTACKED; HUGE, HOWLING MOBS

MILITARY STORES ARE BURNED AS 100,000 JOIN IN DISORDERS

CAIRO, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Swarms of demonstrators, shouting "Down with England," attacked the All Saints Anglican Cathederal, attempted to invade a British Army barracks, burned military stores and touched off riot, disorder and gunfire in Egypt today.

Responding to a call of student and union leaders for a general one-day strike in Egypt's principal cities as a demonstration of their dieterminatton to have British troops withdraw from all the Nile Valley, from 100,000 to 150,000 persons roamed the streets and squares of Cairo. The city's shops and factories were closed.

The crowd attacking the cathederal in Cairo looted the bishop's house and set fire to the cathederal hall.

Another throng set fire to an RAF storehouse in Downtown Cairo, and guards who opened fire wounded three.

A group of about 100 students and workers attacked the British Kasrl El Nil barracks and were driven off by gunfire.

The attack came after two trucks bearing British army markings had ploughed through a crowd of demonstrators in a nearby street. At least one Egyptian was killed and several were injured by the trucks.

The demonstartors were part of about 100,000 to 150,000 persons thronging the streets of Cairo during widespread strikes demanding evacuation of British troops and unity in the Nile Valley.

SEAMEN MUTINY IN INDIA; AIM GUNS AT CITY OF BOMBAY

HEAVY FIGHTING IS REPORTED; SOME 200 STRIKERS SAID DEAD

BOMBAY, Feb. 21.—(AP)—British troops and striking seamen of the Royal Indian Navy battled near the Bombay waterfront today while warcraft of the mutineers maneuvered in the narbor. Bloody civilian riots broke out in the heart of the city tonight.

Police fired repeatedly on street mobs after failing to break them up with lathis. Spectators said there were many casualties.

Three street cars and three buses were halted and set afire after the passengers were forced out.

Civilians in Sympathy.

The civilian demonstrations in this second city of India were in expressed sympathy for the Royal Indian Navy strikers, who were reported by one seaman to have suffered 200 casualties from the fire of British Tommies and Indian troops besieging their Castle barracks.

Naval enlisted men barricaded in Castle Barracks, a Naval establishment in the Castle section in the heart of the downtown area, were besieged by British Tommies and Indian troops. The troops had orders to quell what the Indian Navy's flag officer caleld a "state of open mutiny."

There were reports a truce ended the fight at Castle Barracks shortly before 5:30 p. m. (6 a. m. Central Standard Time), but gunfire still echoed through the city at 8 p. m.

Prosperity Around Corner If All Go To Work—Truman

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—President Truman expressed belief today that production and distribution will hit its postwar peak before long if everybody works and cooperates.

He told his news conference that he had hoped last Fall that restoration of full civilian production would have been achieved by now.

Asked what he thought of present economic conditions, he said he always was optimistic and he still is.

He said that an order reconstituting the office of economic stabilization would be issued soon. He attributed delay in its issuance to the necessity of working out details.

This order is a part of the new program under which he shook up his top stabilization command and established a new wage-price policy.

The president, in response to a question, said he had nothing to report on the strike of the CIO Auto Workers against General Motors.

Mr. Truman reported he had not yet decided on the personnel of a three-member council provided in the "maximum employment" bill which he signed yesterday.

PRESIDENT ASSERTS HE WILL STICK TO PAULEY NOMINATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—President Truman said today he intended to back Edwin W. Pauley to the limit in his fight for confirmation as navy undersecretary.

The President told his news conference he usually backed any man he was for, when asked whether the suggestion of Senator Stewart (D-Tenn) that Pauley should withdraw would change the attiude.

A reporter, repeating a question that has been asked of the President at two previous news conferences, wanted to know whether Mr. Truman intended to withdraw Pauley's nomination. The President gave a flat no.

PEACETIME DRAFT IS FAVORED BY TRUMAN; NOT BY COMMITTEE

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—President Truman said today he did not believe it would be practical to try to abolish peacetime conscription throughout the world.

He expressed this opinion at a news conference after he was told the house military affairs committee might propose such a plan before acting on the president's request for universal training legislation.

The conscription prohibition has gained strong support in the committee.

Growing favor for the idea came to light as the committee neared the end of three months of hearings on legislation for a universal military training program for the United States.

Chairman May (D-Ky) told reporters the committee would take no action on universal training bills until it has considered a separate proposal urging the president to use his influence to bring about an international agreement outlawing peacetime conscription.

Feeling Is Lukewarm

Committee members disclosed that May arranged for the hearings on the proposal at the insistence of Republican Committeemen, many of whom along with several Democrats have been lukewarm to the universal training program backed by President Truman and the armed services.

Earlier plans to refer the universal training bills to a subcommittee at the end of today's public hearings have been laid aside, May said.

There is little sentiment in the committee for the president's request for one continuous year of training for 18-year-olds.

Cotton Prices Up $1.25-$1.40 Bale In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 21.—(AP)—General buying in cotton, based largely on OPA ceiling and government parity programs, advanced prices $1.65 to $2.10 a bale at the peak of early trading here today.

At the end of the first hour, activity tapered off and prices reacted but remained $1.25 to $1.40 a bale above the previous close. At that hour May was quoted at 26.45 cents a pound, July 26.42, October 26.28 and December 26.45.

The demand was attributed to the following factors:

Renewed efforts in congress to adopt the Pace parity bill.

OPA concessions to mills which raise ceiling prices on corded cotton yarns.

OPA's proposed program for higher prices on other cotton goods.

Claims that under Secretary Anderson the department of agriculture has worked out a new parity formula for cotton, which would fix parity price around 29 cents a pound.

POTENT, HARD HITTING AIR FORCE TO GUARD PEACE URGED BY STRATEMEYER

The liquidation of Japs in war time and the building of a potent air force with great striking power to guard the peace at all times are two very serious hobbies of one of Corsicana's most distinguished citizens.

Lieutenant General George E. Stratemeyer, Commanding General of the U. S. Army Air Forces in the China Theater, known as a "flying general" whose skillful administrative abilities and warm human qualities have won for him the universal respect and loyalty of those who have worked with and for him, arrived late Wednesday in Corsicana, his adopted home. Accompanied by his wife, they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Sanders.

Likes Texas

"I am happy as any Texas GI in the army to be back in Texas—in my home town—with my Corsicana friends—I like Texas and Texas people," the general told a Sun reporter. "This is not my first trip to Corsicana. I was in your city on an inspection tour in 1941," he said. Prior to the war the general had been stationed at a number of Texas army posts including San Antonio and El Paso.

Known as "Strat" to virtually every officer and enlisted man in his command, the 54-year-old general was graduated from the United States Military Academy, West Point, in 1915. He was appointed to command the Army Air Forces in China in July 1945, after having been in India since August 1943. He had previously served as Chief of Air Staff at Headquarters Army Air Forces in Washington, D. C.

Helping Chinese Armies

"At the time that surrender came we were in the process of a full scale augmentation and redeployment of the Tenth and Fourteenth Air Forces," the general said. "Their principal mission was to be cooperation and coordination with the recently revitalized Chinese armies which had been trained by Americans and supplied with modern American equipment. Our immediate goal was to open a port on the China coast through which supplies and material could be brought by sea. I am happy that now it will not be necessary to proceed with those plans, although I am confident that they would have been destined to success," the general observed.

Urges Modern Air Force

General Stratemeyer is a strong advocate of an adequate air force for the future.

"For my part I would like to emphasize that the Allied victory was brought about through the wholehearted coordination of all arms—air, land, and sea—by the splendid cooperation which we received from the Allies, and by the efforts of all who were fighting on the home front," he said, adding that "with General Arnold, General Spaatz and General Eaker, I have long been an exponent of a strong air force—I think the present war proved that we were right."

Guardian of Peace

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the necessity of maintaining our air force in the future, as the most potent guardian of peace that we have," the general urged. "We must have an organization and industry capable of rapid expansion. We must have facilities for research and technological development which will keep us the most modern air force in the world, and we must have strategically located bases from which we can instantly strike at the heart of any aggressor before he has an opportunity to attack us," the veteran Air Force Commander emphasized.

Since August 1943, when he arrived in India, he has flown more than 800 hours—the equivalent of approximately 144,000 miles—in his four motored staff bomber and in transport aircraft. There is scarcely an important air base in China, Burma or India which the general has not visited.

Held Dual Positions

Prior to his China assignment Gen. Stratemeyer held the dual positions of Commanding General of the USAAF in the India-Burma Theater, and Air Commander of

KILL MORE JAPS

"The reason we are here is to kill Japs—the more Japs we kill—the more lives we'll save—and the quicker we'll end the war." This remark by Gen. Stratemeyer was widely quoted throughout the China-Burma-India Theater during the war.

SGT. BILLY L. BRADFORD GUEST OF MRS. ROOSEVELT IN SCOTLAND DURING RECENT UNO MEETING

Sgt. Billy L. Bradford, 22, U. S. army on furlough in Scotland, was awakened from a deep sleep by his hotel telephone, and gruffly answered the summons.

It was Eleanor Roosevelt, member of the U. S. delegation to the UNO, and widow of the late president, inviting Bradford and four other American soldiers to her apartment, where they enjoyed an hour's chat with the former First Lady.

In a letter written to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bradford, 208 West Tenth avenue, Feb. 6, the his impressions of the famous personage, and Mrs. Roosevelt mentioned the visit with the Americans in her "My Day" syndicated column on Feb. 2.

Invited to Lunch.

The soldiers had learned that Mrs. Roosevelt and Senator Tom Connally of Texas, chairman of the foreign relations committee of the senate. U. S. representatives to the UNO sessions, were in Scotland. The five soldiers wrote a letter, inviting them to have lunch with them in Edinburg, Scotland.

Unable to fill the dinner date sought by the GIs, Mrs. Roosevelt telephoned them to visit with her before the dinner engagement scught, according to the letter.

The Corsicana soldier admitted to his parents that he and his companions were excited by the invitation and spoke of her gracious and charming manner in greeting them upon their arrival.

Most Gracious.

"Everyone lost his fear completely—she is the most gracious hostess I have ever met," the sergeant wrote his mother, and said they discussed the UNO, occupation of Germany, etc., with their hostess.

Bradford said that Mrs. Roosevelt told the GIs stories about her sons when they were kids, and also about she and her late husband.

Tells of Visit.

Mrs. Roosevelt in her syndicated column referred to her visit with the two Texans, one Ohioan, one North Carolinan, and a New Yorker, and said all planned to resume their educations when they return home from the European theatre.

The non-com entered the armed forces in May, 1943, while a student at Hillsboro Junior College, following his graduation from Corsicana High school. He went overseas in September, 1944, serving in the 99th Infantry regiment with the U. S. First Army, that had a great part in ending the war with Germany. He is now stationed in Germany.

Visited Many Countries.

The mother of the soldier, who assists her husband in operating the concession at the Corsicana Cotton Mills, said her son was on a month's furlough trip in Switzerland, Paris, France; England, Scotland and Ireland, when the above-mentioned letter was written. She said that he has now returned to his headquarters in Germany, and thinks there is a strong possibility that her son may be en route home for discharge at the present time.

"I'm sure Billy will be home in March," Mrs. Bradford said, "and I believe he is on his way home now."

Negro Defends Self, But Loses, In Court

tion in the harbor as the troops and barricaded seamen exchanged rifle and machinegun fire.

The estimate of 200 seamen killed or wounded came from an enlisted rating who said he had escaped from the barracks. There was no official announcement of casualties.

The Army tonight issued a communique stating:

Reinforcements On Way

"It is officially announced that strong naval, military and air reinforcements are on the way to Bombay, Poona and Karachi."

(Prime Minister Attlee told Commons in London that Royal Navy ships were proceeding to Bombay. He said he had made urgent inquiries to officials in India as to details of the onditions.)

Vice Admiral Sir John Godfrey proclaimed the existence of "a state of open mutiny." He promised to use every force at his command to crush the revolt of the seamen, who have protested that they were discriminated against under British regulation of the fleet.

Heavily armed British Tommies and Indian troops went into action when Indian seamen who had been staging a hunger strike in the Castle barracks, attempted to break out into the strees from which they had been banned following demonstrations earlier this week. The seamen responded with small arms fire.

Seamen at Guns.

Whether there was any significance to the maneuver of the nine warships held by the strikers—of the sloop and frigate class—was not explained. They formed a staggered line within easy shooting distance of the shore in front of the stone archway called the "Gateway to India." Seamen were seen at gun positions, working with the weapons.

A British communique said the seamen who had seized control of vessels in the harbor had threatened to fire if any move was made against them.

Godfrey's warning to use extreme force to quell the mutiny was carried to the seamen barricaded in Castle barracks by an officer who entered under a flag of truce.

Warning is Broadcast.

Godfrey, flag officer of the Royal Indian Navy, also broadcast this warning over the Bombay radio:

"A State of open mutiny prevails in which ratings (seamen) appear to have completely lost control of their senses.

"To continue this struggle is the height of folly, when you take into account the overwhelming forces at the disposal of the government at this time, which will be used to their utmost, even if it means the destruction of the navy of which you have been so proud."

British reinforcements were called into the city to cope with the situation after the outbreak at Castle barracks, which developed into a long-range gun battle between barricaded seamen and soldiers outside.

Rifle Fire Exchanged.

The action broke out around 9 a. m. The crackle of rifle fire and an occasional burst from a Lewis gun resounded across the bend in the harbor as strikers at the Castle barracks and the fort barracks, in downtown Bombay not far from the waterfront, were held under siege.

However, all firing in the barracks area was reported to have ended at 4 p. m. At 4:30 p. m. squads of city police moved to the waterfront and began directing spectators back. The police did not explain.

A large detachment of Royal Indian Air Force men paraded in the city.

WEST TEXAS TOWN MAY BE FORCED TO LEAVE HOMES SOON

ROBERT LEE, Texas, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Moving day for this West Texas town of 1,000 population may not be far off.

Under plans being formulated the present site will become a lake bed.

This would come about with the building of the proposed Buffalo Dam across the Colorado, one of Texas' biggest rivers, backing up water for 50 miles.

Robert Lee, the county seat of Coke County, would be inundated to a depth of about 12 feet, but enough water to irrigate 58,000 acres of fertile but thirsty land would be impounded.

L. T. Youngblood, Bronte banker, farmer and president of the sponsoring Upper Colorado River Authority, estimated the dam and irrigation system will cost $20,000,000.

He predicted that the project would bring 10,000 additional people into the four-county area. He pointed out that a large section of West Texas would benefit from increased feed production. This, he said, would be a large factor in the agricultural economy of the district.

Backed up into an area of scenic hills, the lake also would be ideal for a major recreational center, serving thousands of square miles in which surface water of any kind is a rarity.

Robert Lee would move, courthouse and all, to an elevation north of the proposed lake, the second wholesale move in the town's 57-year history.

The town's first site was christened Hayrick, after a nearby rounded butte, when a group led by admirers of General Robert E. Lee first settled it in 1880.

The next year, in quest of water, settlers moved their comunity several miles down to the shores of the Colorado, and changed the name to Robert Lee.

LONE STAR BEGINS WORK ON GAS LINE TO CARTHAGE FIELD

Lone Star Gas Company has begun construction of a 79-mile pipeline that will tie the gas field near Carthage in Panola county, into the company's 5,000-mile network of transmission mains, according to Elmer F. Schmidt, Lone Star vice president in charge of the transmission division.

The new 14-inch line, extending due west from Carthage and joining the company's present pipeline network at Opelika in Henderson county, will secure additional gas reserves for the company and strengthen the local gas supply and that of nearly 300 other towns and cities served by Lone Star.

The line will carry a maximum pressure of 1,200 pounds. It will extend through Panola, Rusk, Smith and Henderson counties, touch Brownsboro and run south of Tyler and north of Overton and Henderson.

Plan For Repairs On Navarro County Levee Presented

AUSTIN, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The state highway commission was trying to figure out today how it could permit the moving of 15 houses 34 feet wide from Palacios to El Campo over a highway the maximum width of which is 34 feet.

The 18-foot pavement is centered in the 34-foot right-of-way. The road has a high crown, and deep ditches. Moving the houses would tie up traffic for five to seven hours. Commission Engineer D. C. Greer suggested the houses might be sawed in half.

The commission today resumed hearing a heavy docket of requests for road improvements and designations, after taking up matters which included the following, yesterday:

Navarro—A plan whereby the state and county will share 50-50 would tie up traffic for five to County Levee Improvement District No. 11, was presented by T. D. Queen chairman of the board and acting secretary of the district. Entire cost approximately $3,614.

New Fighting Reported.

The Chungking municipal political council simultaneously petitioned the Chinese government to adopt a stronger Manchurian policy.

The Yalta agreement, made official by the parallel Sino-Soviet treaty, gives Russia continued control of important Port Arthur, declares Dairen a free port, and gives Russia joint control with China of certain Manchurian railroads.

(A Peiping dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Olen Clements said reliable Chinese sources there confirmed reports of renewed government-communist clashes in Manchuria and charged that Russian troops fought with Communists near Liaoyang Monday.)

Russians Said Taking Part.

(The Chinese said they saw pictures of Russian bodies beside those of Chinese Communists. Some 300 rounds of light artillery were fired at government troops, two of whom were wounded.

(Chinese also said the Russians were heavily reinforcing the garrison at Dairen with "several tens of thousands" of troops.

(A Chinese source in Changchun, the Manchurian capital, reported having seen communist Eighth army soldiers armed with Russian tommy guns. The report was not confirmed by any other source, but Chungking reports yesterday said Communists in Manchuria were equipped with Russian tanks and guns.)

up by the Canadian government is directed toward the encouragement of this campaign in the press and radio. It is not compatible with friendly relations between the two countries."

The statement, later handed to the Canadian charge de affaires in Moscow, asserted that the Soviet military attache in Ottawa was recalled as soon at "the above mentioned activities of certain members" of his staff became known to the Russian government, because of the "inadmissibility" of those activities.

The statement said the Soviet ambassador and other members of the embassy in Canada had "no connection whatsoever with the matter."

Dispatches from Ottawa said the Russian military attache, Col. Nicolai Zabotin, left the Dominion capital some time ago.

A Canadian government spokesman in Ottawa declared the Russians were making "political capital" of the affair.

"The Soviet statement," he said, "started out as an admission of guilt sufficient to cause withdrawal of its military attache, and then proceeded to minimize the whole affair and sought to make political capital by imputing motives to the Canadian government."

Government circles in Canada acknowledged that the affair was fraught with serious diplomatic potentialities. A brief formal reply to the Soviet accusation was expected soon.

James E. Taylor Formally Announces For State Senator

Formal announcement of the candidacy of James E. Taylor of Kerens for reelection as state senator from the Sixth District is carried in the political announcements column of today's paper. He was elected in November, 1944, to fill out the unexpired term of the late Clay Cotton of Palestine while on active duty with the 36th Division in France.

In announcing for reelection to his first full term Senator Taylor asked the editor to express to the people of Corsicana and Navarro county his appreciation for their support in his election while he was thousands of miles away and dependent entirely upon his friends.

"It has been my earnest desire," Taylor said, "to render sincere and trustworthy service as a public servant. My decisions have always been based on the best judgment I have of the public interest and information received from many of you on the matters under consideration. On occasion we may not have entirely agreed, but my disagreement has always been honest and based on the general welfare of the entire district and the state of Texas. My conduct as a public official will continue to be motivated by these same considerations as long as I am your elected representative."

Senator Taylor is thirty-nine, was married to Estelle Foster Taylor following their graduation from Baylor University at Waco in 1927, and has one fourteen-year-old daughter. He formerly published the Kerens Tribune before entering th army in 1940.

CORSICANA TIGERS DEFEATED TUESDAY BY TEMPLE 24-15

BELL COUNTY ENTRY FORGED AHEAD IN FINAL PERIOD OF CONTEST

By GROVER HEIMAN
Sun Sports Staff.

Corsicana Tigers fell victim to the last period jinx again Tuesday night as they went into the final canto tied up with the Temple Wildcats at 13-13, only to see the marking at 24-15 in favor of the visitors at the end of the contest.

Tigers pulled away to a quick lead in the opening minutes to hold the reins at the end of the first quarter, 8-4. The second stanza went scoreless for the locals while Temple scored seven to forge ahead at the half time recess 11-8.

Starting the third period, Temple moved ahead quickly with Zinn grabbing a long shot from the floor to make it 13-8, but the Tigers tightened up and Ferguson rang in two from the near sidelines and Justice added a gratis shot to tie up the contest at 13-13.

Temple again took the lead in the final quarter with Gentry adding a free toss, followed by Festerman with a set shot from deep in the court. Gentry copied that action with a crip and then added two more short ones.

California Calvert turned in a nice performance at the pivot position. He executed a fake, then spun, and aced in one from the free throw region to score the locals' only two points in the final quarter. Festerman, Temple forward, capped the night's point making with another set shot to bring the score to 24.

Gentry Led Scorers.

Top scoring honors went to Gentry, Temple center, who dropped in nine points, followed by Calvert, Tiger center, who scored six and Ferguson, Tiger forward, placed with five.

Both mentors used two complete fives during the night, with Bill Hay, Tiger pilot, interchanging with complete teams. As the final game approaches with the Ennis Lions this coming Thursday, the Tigers will finish a season with only one win unless they down the neighboring quintet. The last two tilts have seen the locals enter the final period on an aven basis with their opponents, only to fall behind in the scoring to drop the contest.

Jim (California) Calvert, Tiger center, showed a great amount of improvement and the five as a whole displayed more competitive spirit than in any previous tilt. Ferguson gave a scrapy performance and J. H. Justice dealt Gentry, the Temple star, a great amount of worry on defense by upsetting his feints with clever guarding tactics.

Temple's superiority showed only in the long set shot attempts, making enough of them to spell the difference. Short on stature, the locals have been troublesome to all opponents under the basket on defense.

A. H. Ganze and Bill Davis turned in good jobs at the guard spots for the evening, both scrapping under the netting on rebounds. Despitae his height advantage, Gentry found it difficult to snare short tries for this reason.

Corsicana Fair Officials Plan Fall Exposition

Twenty-one vocational agriculture teachers and county agricultural agents from surrounding counties met with officials of the Corsicana Fair and Livestock Show last night to discuss plans for the 1946 show, scheduled September 17-22.

The dinner meeting began at 6:30 o'clock in the Cactus Room of the Navarro Hotel, with E. C. Mueller, secretary of the Fair Association, presiding.

Emphasis this year will be placed on districtwide, rather than county-wide, 4-H and FFA entries and displays, Mueller said.

Prizes in the 4-H calf show will almost double those of last year. A district 4-H and FFA special corn exhibit is planned, and first prize will be $20.

District school day will replace the county school day of the past, and details will be worked out later with school officials in this section. Community displays also will be an a district basis this year.

Standards of the 4-H Club calf show will be raised, and only the best calves will be selected for entrance.

"We definitely will have one more calf scrambles during the five nights of the show," Mueller said.

Both J. N. Edens and Roy Harrison are giving registered hereford heifers, each valued at between $500 and $600, as prizes in the 4-H and FFA competition.

Vocational exhibits are scheduled again. In these and the community exhibits from this district, new and higher standards will be established.

NO RELAXATION OF SUGAR RATIONING IS EXPECTED SOON

Prospects for the relaxation of sugar rationing took a blacker hue with a recent Department of Agriculture forecast that world production may decrease 400,000 tons for the 1945-46 period. The bulletin was received here recently by Homer A. Scott, chairman of the Navarro ACA.

A sugar harvest of about 100 million tons is expected in North and Central America and the West Indies, compared with 8.8 tons last year. Sharp production decreases in the Far East and in Africa, Australia, and islands in the Pacific have more than offset increases in the Western Hemisphere.

World output of beet and cane sugar in 1945-46 is estimated at 27.8 million tons, as compared with the 1944-45 total of 28.2 tons. Estimated output for 1945-46 is 2.7 tons less than in 1943-44, and 6.5 tons below the .935-39 avarage.

Beet sugar has been up since 1943 in North America, but Europe has been down due to the scarcity of fertilizer, fuel, transportation. Cane sugar production is estimated at 500,000 tons less than last year, and 2 million tons below the pre-war average.

BOY SCOUT PROGRAM LEADERSHIP NEEDED IN NAVARRO COUNTY

The need for trained leadership in the Navarro Boy Scout program was emphasized by Tom Bailey and Don Winslow at a luncheon meeting of Civitan Club Thursday in Navarro Hotel.

Bailey, chairman of the Navarro county district committee, said there were 747 Scouts organized into 29 different groups in this county. "We have only a small percentage of the trained leadership which we need to head these groups," he stated.

"The Scouting program teaches friendliness, tolerance and democracy." Bailey said. "It is a program deserving of our time and our best efforts."

On the district committee with Bailey are John Corley, vice chairman; Fred Harvey, Bob Reading, Guy Henry, Bill Balcom, Carl Watson and Harry Montgomery. Gaston Gooch is district commissioner.

Winslow, Boy Scout executive, spoke briefly and showed a 20-minute movie on "The Scout Trail to Citizenship."

J. C. Watson, county superintendent of education, was accompanied by three members of the county board of education, W. B. Payne of Pursley, L. C. Boswell of Barry, and E. H. Gray of Kerens. A vocational agricultural training program for GIs interested in agriculture, which has been proposed for Navarro county, was explained by W. H. Smith.

M. S. Battle's application for membership was received. Clark Butler served as program chairman. Guests were James Cerf and Fletcher Pope.

Discussed Roads.

L. L. Powell, of Blooming Grove, Navarro county judge, discussed farm-to-market roads Tuesday night at the meeting of the Frost Civitan Club.

Former Corsicanan Among GI's Saved From Grounded Ship

Three years of overseas duty in the European Theater of Operations came to a dramatic close for Capt. Bob Evers Tripp of Dallas, former resident of this city, when rescue boats recently carried him and fellow passengers to New York from a grounded ship, the Leon Wilson.

Tripp had been on duty in North Africa with the Army Signal Corps for three years, and had been en route home since January 5th when the ship was grounded, a day out from the coast of Virginia. A mild storm and heavy fog caused the ship to flounder, and when the crew could not break it loose, life boats were sent out from shore to bring the war weary GIs home.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tripp, who now reside near Denton, Tripp is a former student of North Texas State College, a graduate of Capitol Radio Engineering Institute, Washington, D. C., and of the University of Texas. He will report to Fort Sam Houston for his discharge.

Over 14 Thousand Qualified Voters In Navarro County

Voting strength of Navarro county in the approaching primaries and elections will probabaly exceel 14,000, the largest in many years, according to Halley Blake, assessor and collector of taxes for Navarro county, Wednesday following the finishing of the writing of poll tax receipts for 1946.

There were 7,958 poll tax receipts issued and 1,252 exemptions within the city of Corsicana.

It is estimated that at least 1,000 voters are located in the 42 precincts outside the City of Corsicana who are not required to have exemption certificates to vote. Only in cities of 10,000 population or larger require exemption certificates for voting.

It is conservatively estimated that there are 4,000 men and women in Navarro county entitled to vote as ex-service men and women. Some believe this estimate is too low, and believe the voting strength will be nearer the 15,000 mark than the smaller figure.

Interest is increasing in the approaching democratic primaries of the summer with new candidates entering the races of their choice each week. A large entry is indicated in the democratic primaries by the time the deadline for filing approaches.

STUDENTS AT SOH PRESENTED AWARDS HIGH SCHOOL WORK

By VERA CANADY
State Home Student

Sunday morning thirteen new members of the State Home Chapter of the National Honor society were presented pins for scholastic achievements for the first two years in their high school work.

A special message on the subject, "Follow Me," was delivered by the Rev. Jared T. Cartlidge, pastor of the First Baptist church.

W. C. Murdock, educational director, turned the program over to Charles Turner, president of the society, who reviewed the first organization of the society in this country and gave the qualities which a person must possess to become a member.

Society Emblem

The emblem of the society is the keystone and flaming torch. The keystone bears at the base the letters "C.S.L.S.," which stand for the cardinal principles of the organization: Character, the composite of all the common virtues sets the seal of righteousness upon every endeavor; Scholarship, the power of the mind to dispel ignorance and superstition through scientific investigation of truth; Leadership, the power of personality that blazes the trail for man's upward climb; and Service, the beginning and end of our education, the altar of altruism from which God's blessings to man have been vouchsafed. These principles were discussed by Vera Canady, Hosia Lee Bottoms, Montyne Cawthon and Edna Pearl Gardner.

Members Receiving Awards

New members who were awarded the emblems include: Robert Turner, Curtis Jones, Ina Mae Balentine, Lorena Olive, Warner Jo Murdock, Jastine Creacy, Mozelle Rawls, Tina Gregory, Joe Howerton, Christine Erzen, Ed Erzen, Freeda Pruitt, and Willie Colburn.

Old members in the society are Hosia Bottoms, Doris Pratt, Charles Turner, Vernon Wheeler, Jean Smith, Vera Canady, Edna Gardner, Ruby Gregory, Montyne Cawthon, and Opal Jarrell

Probationary members who will be awarded emblems next year if they maintain high standards are: Marvin Rawls, Carl Roberts, Helen Smotherman, and Louise Gregg.

The faculty, in electing students to the society, honors them for the attainments already made and for the promise they contain of continued excellence in the cherished ideals of the school.

Mrs. Bertha Posey and Miss Exie Burchfield are sponsors

THREE YEAR PROGRAM HIGHWAY BUILDING IN NAVARRO COUNTY OUTLINED BY STATE ENGINEER

By PAUL MOORE
Daily Sun Staff.

A highway program embracing three years, is planned for Corsicana and Navarro county, that finds various types of highway construction and improvements contemplated, with the possibility that other projects will be approved, according to a communication from M. C. Welborn, district engineer, Texas Highway Department, Dallas. Should Navarro county citizens inaugurate a farm-to-market road construction program, much work will be provided during the next few years in road construction. The state highway department program embraces construction and improvement on Highways 31 and 75, and 50-odd miles of farm-to-market lateral roads, according to the letter from the district engineer.

Petitions are being circulated in various sections of the county, requesting the commissioners court to call a mess-meeting of the county to decide upon a county-wide farm program to supplement existing and contemplated farm-to-market roads. Some of the petitions have been received at the office of L. L. Powell, county judge.

The district engineer pointed out that two and one-half years ago the Texas Highway Commission authorized improvements on U. S. Highway 75 (Seventh street, Corsicana) from the intersection of Highway 31 (Seventh avenue) to a point 0.4 mile south of the south city limits and also improvements on State Highway 31 (Seventh avenue) from the intersection with U. S. Highway 75 (Seventh street) to the east city limits.

Want Pavement Widened.

"The highway commission agreed to widen the existing pavement on both these sections of highway providing the city of Corsicana would do the necessary grading, construct drainage structures, and curb and gutter, and furnish whatever additional right-of-way might be required," Welborn stated. "During the war years, we were unable to fulfill our obligations due to a critical shortage of equipment, material and personnel. However, the commitments from the highway commission are still in effect, and it will be our purpose to carry out our original plans for improving both these highways through the city of Corsicana," he added.

The district engineer also revealed that the highway commission proposed to improve three blocks of State Highway 31 (West Seventh avenue) from the corporate limit line at Thirty-Fourth street east to Thirty-First street.

Second Avenue Improvements.

Relative to a question concerning the re-paving of West Second avenue over which Highway 22 is routed, the engineer said that at the present time there are no improvements proposed along the route of State Highway 22 over this avenue. (A temporary proposal submitted several years ago has been abandoned, it is understood, and a permanent program is expected o be worked out later by the engineering department that may include the widening of the street, new curb and gutter and possibly a new type of pavement as compared with the present brick surfacing.)

"It is probable that construction of these city street improvements (Highway 75 and 31) will be started some time this summer," the district engineer's communication added.

(It is expected that the city commission will re-adopt its previous commitment for the widening of the highway streets (Seventh avenue and Seventh street) as enumerated above as considerable work toward those goals had been done before war-time conditions and restrictions necessitated the temporary abandoning of the projects.)

Three-Year Program.

Turning to another section of the Navarro county road program of the highway commission, Engineer Welborn discussed the three-year highway program in the county.

The first project to be pushed by the highway department will be widening of bridges and culverts on Highway 75 between Richland and the Freestone-Navarro county line at Streetman. The pavement on this section was widened last year from its original 18-foot slab to a 24-foot pavement. Bids are expected to be opened by the highway commission on this project March 12.

Other primar highway projects as outlined by the district engineer are:

1. Grading and drainage structures on State Highway 31 between Silver City and Dawson (7.4 miles.)
2. Surfacing on State Highway 31 between Corsicana and Dawson.

State Highway 31.

Grading and drainage structures on Highway 31 between Corsicana and Silver City (near Purdon) were completed prior to the cessation of new construction incident to the war and the remaining sector is the final gap in this cardinal highway between Waco and East Texas. It is expected that the pavement from Corsicana to Dawson will be 20 feet wide as the slab on either end is of that width. When completed, the Corsicana-Dawson sector will reduce the present mileage between these two points by approximately eight miles. The present Highway 31 rcute via Pickett, Pursley and Parishville communities from Corsicana to Dawson is 26 miles and will become a secondary or farm-to-market road when the new and shorter route is completed and designated as the traffic artery. (The old route, too, will be in the county system for maintenance after it is abandoned as the Highway 31 designation.)

Eleven Projects.

There are 11 projects in the 50-odd miles of lateral or secondary roads contemplated to be constructed by the highway department of Texas during the next three years as follows:

1. Powell to Elm Flat.
2. Silver City to Blooming Grove.
3. Currie to near Rushing.
4. Frost to Ellis county line (connect with road to Italy and cardinal highways traversing Ellis county.)
5. Round Prairie to Rural Shade.
6. Kerens to near Bazette.
7. From State Highway 22, 1.7 miles west of Frost to Emmett.
8. From State Highway 31 southwest to half mile west of Pursley.
9. From U. S. 287 near Mildred to two miles east of Tuckertown.
10. From State Highway 31 through El Dorado to Limestone county line.
11. From cemetery northeast of Streetman southwest to Freestone county line.

Construction Soon.

"The improvements for the above-listed farm-to-market roads include the construction of grading, drainage, structures and surfacing. Actual construction of this secondary mileage is expected to begin in the early summer months," according to the district engineer.

A crew of draftsmen and field workers are now employed in the local resident engineer's office preparing the plans and specifications for the first and second years' designations and the two years' program will doubtless be contracted during the approaching summer lettings by the highway commission. Several of the projects are expected to be ready for bids not later than April. This will give the contractors the best of the weather for road construction in this area.

(A highway traffic survey conducted several years ago indicated that in addition to the present highways, present secondary and the 52.2 miles to be constructed in the three-year period, 1946-1947, and 1948) a farm-to-market system of approximately 211 miles would care for 95 per cent of the Navarro county traffic.

The three-year program of state constructed laterals is as follows, by years:

First Year—Frost-Ellis county line, 2.6 miles; Powell to Elm Flat, 3.1 miles; Silver City to Blooming Grove, 10.5 miles, and Currie to Rushing, 3.5 miles. Total, 19.7 miles.

Second Year—Round Prairie to Rural Shade, 2.2 miles; Kerens to Bazette, 4.1 miles; Frost to Emmett, 6.6 miles and Pursley-Highway 31, 1.8 miles. Total, 14.7 miles.

Third Year—Mildred to Tuckertown, 6.1 miles; Highway 31 to El Dorado, 9.6 miles, and cemetery to Streetman, 4.7 miles. Total 20.4 miles.

Call Firemen To Rescue Child In Locked Bathroom

"Firemen, rescue my child," was the frantic plea of a mother over the telephone last night.

A truck from the city fire department rushed to the 200 block of North Thirtieth Street, placed a ladder beneath a second story window, and climbed up.

Seconds later, they unlocked a bathroom door and a little three year old lad toddled out into his mother's arms. He had been locked in the bathroom several minutes and was unable to open the door.

CORSICANA, TEX., FEB. 22, 1946

BOMBING ANTARCTICA

Dropping atomic bombs on the Antarctic continent to blow up the ice cap and release the coal and other minerals deposits lying beneath the frozen surface is suggested by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker. This plan, which he has submitted to the Army, Navy and Coast Guard, he thinks is the only feasible way of obtaining Antarctica's metals. As the land is uninhabited, except for seals, whales and penguins at the water's edge, the experiment should be safe.

But would it? It might result in the release of vast quantities of water, whose tidal waves could easily reach South America and New Zealand. Before the United States goes ahead with the project, there should and probably will be consultation with countries which might be seriously affected.

NEW METALS

Heaven, we have long been told, is a place where rust doth not corrode, nor do thieves break through and steal. But we are gaining on the rust, at least, right here on this earth, to a greater degree than was formerly known by any generation. For which every automobile owner may be grateful.

This is a result of the new metals and alloys, produced lately at a rate and with a degrees of perfection almost miraculous. It seems to amount, in many cases, to the creation of actually new metals, produced to order for purposes never before realized.

HAPPY THOUGH WORKING

Job advice to the returnveteran and employment aids in the New York City area are offered in a booklet prepared by New York State Savings banks. After listing employment agencies; where to apply for a civil service, city, state or federal job; the relation of labor unions to job-seekers; hints on how to appear before an employer, the most significant tip to the veteran is the plea that he study himself so that he will get into work that he really likes.

"You're losing a great deal of what life can offer if you're unhappy 75 per cent of the time," says the booklet. It's author is a former counselor of the U. S. Employment Service, War Man Power Commission, Martin Schaul. Maybe some non-veterans could use that book—or a similar one—with profit. And isn't some such guide a good thing for other states and large municipalities to be getting out?

CLOTURE IN THE SENATE

"The amount of latitude permitted to himself by the Senator is equaled only by the longitude of his observations, and the latitude and longitude were only equaled by the futility of his argument."

This was not said in 1946, though it might have been, but in 1917 during a senate filibuster against the Armed Ship bill. This was the filibuster which provoked President Wilson's famous denunciation: "A little group of wilful men, representing no opinion but their own, have rendered the great government of the United States helpless and contemptible."

The storm which this aroused compelled the Senate to draw in its horns, and make some provision for cutting debate short. A two-thirds vote is necessary, this being an excellent proviso to make sure that nothing shall be done. The ineffectiveness of the present cloture rule is shown by the fact that only four times has cloture been applied, none of them since 1927.

Bills should be debated. Many contentious bills should be beaten. All that have a considerable backing are entitled to a vote.

WORLD VISION

Welsh speech may sound funny, and many a good Welshman has been laughed at for that reason, by Americans unaccustomed to the varied intonations of the British Isles. But it seldom pays to laugh at a Welshman, any more than it does to laugh at a Scot. And Ernest Bevin, a farm laborer's son with a massive frame and a stout heart, now wields as much power in Britain, and as much respect abroad, as ever did his famous compatriot, David Lloyd George. Here is a "line" on him.

Says Frazer Wighton, political correspondent in London: "Bevin's the first man I have met who really sees the world as a whole, not just as an idealist, but as a great practical statesman."

Shrewd indeed is any man or woman who "really sees the world as a whole" in these confused times, and any public man so gifted should go far.

WILD LIFE LOSSES

The most valuable animal in existence, according to the Department of the Interior, is the whale. This makes serious the heavy destruction of whales in submarine warfare. Recovery measures are urgent, and constitute a task of the Bureau of Fisheries.

There has also been a heavy loss of ocean birds. In their case oil on the sea penetrates their feathers, causing the birds to lose buoyancy. Recovery measures are planned.

Both types of work would provide interesting and important occupation for returned veterans, some of whom did this before the war. Anyone looking for an outdoor job which would never grow monotonous has the way plain before him.

SQUIRREL CAGE LIFE

The story of a Watertown, N. Y., woman dying at 89 in the room where she was born is rare for these restless United States with their constant neighborhood changes and population shiftings. No househunting for her, no purging of the attic to get ready for the movers, no stretching of old carpets and curtains to fit new needs.

Life may have offered her many soul vicissitudes and inner cataclysms, many joys of the spirit and a mental reach around the world and out into the universe, but what a lot of fuss and bother she saved herself by staying put! Yet it may have been a little boring, too, to have had 89 years of security against any housinig shortage. She had none of the fun of the new life that seems to begin along with a new abiding place.

Does the atomic bomb "cut any ice" as we used to say? Well, there's a scheme now to crack the Arctic in search of more wealth.

It begins to look as if the quonset hut, a variation of the Eskimo's igloo, will be the next style wave for American housing.

THE BETTER WAY

What to do to banish hate,
And how to battle with distrust?
No better way to put it straight
Than being generous and just.

Amazed, perhaps, by customs odd,
But still remembering to be kind,
No better way of serving God
Than being tolerant of mind.

How teach the brotherhood of man?
Not as the lessons taught in school,
But each of us, as best he can,
Keeping the simple golden rule.

FOR COUNTY CLERK

TO THE VOTERS OF NAVARRO COUNTY:

I take this method of announcing my candidacy for the office of county clerk of Navarro county, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

I was born and reared in this county and have lived here all my life. I am 33 years of age, married and have one child.

I enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps February 5, 1942, and some six months later shipped overseas, taking an active part in the invasions of Tulagi, Tarrawa, Tinian and Saipan, receiving a battlefield promotion from corporal to second lieutenant after the Tulagi invasion. After serving more than 30 months in the Pacific I was returned to the States and was placed on inactive duty with the Marines on December 25, 1945.

Prior to my entering into military service I was distributor for Toms Toasted Peanuts, district sales representative for Won-Up Grapefruit Juice for 17 counties, and for a period of two years immediately prior to entering the service was in business for myself, conducting, managing and operating the same, including purchasing all goods and supplies and keeping all records and accounts.

I feel that my business experience in the past amply qualifies me to capably and efficiently discharge all duties incumbent upon me as county clerk.

I enter this campaign with malice toward none and with justice for all, merely seeking a job where I can serve the people of Navarro county and support and maintain my family.

I sincerely solicit the support and influence of all the people, pledging to you, if elected, an honest, faithful and efficient administration of the duties of the office which I seek.

J. VERNON (Baldy) HARWELL.

President that sometime ago he said he did not "share the unholy fear of Russia" which the reporter said some people held and asked whether he had anything to say on that in view of recent disclosures.

No Loan to Russia.

The President replied, No comment.

Mr. Truman said he had not reda and therefore could not comment on a speech to parliament by Sir Harold McMillan, former member of the British Conservative cabinet, in which McMillan said that cooperation between the Big Three was virtually in abeyance.

He relpied negatively when asked whether he planned to ask Congress t oapprove a loan to Russia. But the President added that the possibility of sucha loan was not excluded.

In reply to another question, Mr. Truman said United States-British policy with respect to Russia did not come up in his recent conference with Winston Churchill, former British Prime minister. He said the talk concerned only their visit March 5 to Fulton, Mo., and Churchill's speech at Westminster College there.

Churchill's Talk Discussed.

He did not know, he said, whether the British conservative leader would mention Russia in his Missouri speech.

What's still secret about the atom bomb?

Russia's acknowledgement that she obtained "insignificant" secret data about atomic energy and other projects from Canadian citizens pointed up the quetsion today.

A survey shows that among the items still rated top secret are these:

1—The industrial process used for mass production of the bomb material; which of the several production methods finally was decided upon; the sources of supply.

2—The component parts of the completed bomb, including the explosive load and the trigger method by which chain reaction is obtained.

Explosion Results Secret

3—Precise information on pressures, radioactivity, heat and other characteristics of the explosion which, in themselves, might give clues to the bomb's construction.

The report of Dr. Henry DeWolfe Smyth, Princeton University physicist and consultant for the two billion dollar project, is considered the top publicly available information source on nuclear fission. It traces in minute detail the experiments leading to development of the bomb, and describes the two plants built for the bomb's production.

Military officials say they are certain no deliberate misinformation is contained in the Symth report.

It is correct—but not too complete.

Security—the military's way of saying "keep it secret"—has been the abiding worry of all who worked on the project.

out "whenever it considers proper."

The issues involved are union demands for a $10 a week wage increase, a 65-cent hourly minimum and a return to the 40-hour week. A. T. and T. has reportedly offered wage boosts of $5 a week to operators and from $3 to $6 for other workers. Labor department statistics reveal that in November the average hourly wage for the industry was slightly more than $1.

Conciliation Service Agrees

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Edgar L. Warren, director of the federal conciliation service, agreed today to seek settlement of grievances of 250,000 telephone workers threatening a strike.

Warren telegraphed Joseph A. Bierne, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers—who last night requested government intervention—that the conciliation service "will render whatever assistance possible."

The federation, meeting in Memphis, Tenn., has given its executive board authority to order a strike "whenever it considers proper," but has not yet set a strike date.

Warren asked Bierne to confer with him on the situation as soon as the NFTW president returns to Washington.

Draw your own conclusion, the President replied.

Commenting on another report that Schwellenbach might be appointed to the supreme court if Douglas went to interior, the President said emphatically that Schwellenbach is going to stay where he is.

He added that Clinton P. Anderson, another mentioned for Ickes' post, will remain as secretary of agriculture. That is definite, Mr. Truman said, as long as they want to stay.

The President replied that when he gets behind a man he usually stays behind him.

Pauley, meanwhile, brushed aside demands that he ask Mr. Truman to withdraw his nomination.

With the senate naval, committee's investigation of his qualifications in recess unti next Tuesday, Pauley told a reporter he wants his name to fo to a senate vote because he is confident he will be confirmed.

Withdrawal is Urged.

The president also has predicted the California oil man and former treasurer of the Democratic national committee will be approved, but Democratic leaders have yet to share this view.

A second legislator today urged Pauley to withdraw. Senator Morse (R-Ore), told reporters he had just returned from a speaking trip which took him through several states and that "this Pauley case has the country rocked."

Under the watchful guard of two Egyptian army tanks, 20 armored cars and six truckloads of soldiers stationed in the square as a precautionary measure, the demonstrators shouted "evacuation of British troops or bloodshed" and "down with England, down with the conqueror."

A large number of police were scattered throughout the city and foreign establishments were heavily guarded following a call for a general strike by student and labor union leaders. The strike call resulted in the shuttering of shops and factories and the halting of street car service.

Police Use Guns

Lighted torches were thrown by the rioters into the Kasr El Nil barracks which are the biggest in the city. British troops replied with machine guns. There were no signs of the mob dispersing.

Military trucks, one of them loaded with ammunition, were set on fire. Smoke billowed over the fighting throng. Exploding shells from the burning vehicle caused the crowd to break from the gates and seek safety while continuing to hurl missiles at the barracks.

MISS DOROTHY OSBORNE AND A. D. M'MULLAN, JR., WED ON TUESDAY EVENING, PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Osborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Osborne, to A. D. McMullan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McMullan, was solemnized at the First Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, with Dr. W. R. Hall of Marlin, former pastor of the church, reading the rites.

The double-ring ceremony was performed before an altar space highlighted with an attractive arrangement of white calla lilies, carnations and snapdragons, and illumined by myriad white tapers gleaming from floor candelabra. Ropings of dainty fern outlined the choir rail and fashioned an effective background of greenery.

Wedding Music

The wedding music was provided by Mrs. W. M. Forester, organist, who contributed a prelude of selections, including "Evening Prayer" from "Hansel and Gretel" by Humperdinck, "To a Wild Rose" by McDowell, and "Ave Maria" by Schubert. She also played the traditional wedding marches and accompaniments for Harold Blankinship who sang "I Love You Truly," and "Because".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in turquoise blue crepe, with black accessories, and carried a bouquet fashioned of white sweet peas, centered with an orchid, and showered with white satin ribbons and shattered white carnations.

Miss Elaine Coley, who served as maid of honor, wore yellow jersey, with contrasting accessories and carried a fan-shaped bouquet of iris, pink carnations and pink sweet peas, showered with matching satin ribbons.

Miss Dorothy Johnston, bridesmaid, wore dusty rose featherweight wool with black accessories and carried a fan-shaped bouquet identical with that of the maid of honor.

Tom McMullan was his brother's best man, and John Norwood served as usher.

Informal Reception

Immediately following the ceremony, an informal reception was held at the home of Mrs. Elmer Keith, which was adorned with an artistic array of japonica, pink gladioli and red roses.

The bride's table which was laid in pineapple linen featured a center decor of white calla lilies, carnations and snapdragons, and glowing white tapers in silver candelabra provided soft illumination for the setting. A three-tiered, white, satin-iced wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was presided over by Mrs. Neal Crawford, Miss Helen Mullinix served punch, and Mrs. John Norwood had charge of the bride's book. Mrs. Hal Faughn assisted in the dining room.

When the couple left on a short honeymoon trip, the bride was wearing an olive green dressmaker suit with black accessories, and an orchid corsage for floral charm. Upon their return to Corsicana, they plan to make their home at 1514 West Fourth Avenue.

Educational Background

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Corsicana High School. The bridegroom attended A. & M. College, until he enlisted in the Field Artillery and served with the 103rd Division in the European Theater of Operations for more than two-and-one-half years.

Out-of-Town uests

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brown of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harrington of Frost, Mrs. Boyd McMullan of Trinidad and Miss Rose Marie McMullan of Homer, La.

TOMORROW'S CROP OF GREAT MEN MUST COME FROM GOOD HOMES*

New Story of Woodrow Wilson's Beginnings -- Home-Making the Great Opportunity -- Effect Upon Nation of Early Training in Religion -- Greatest "Career" for Men and Women.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS

One of the new books given me at Christmas by Sleighton Farm was "The Story of Woodrow Wilson," by Ruth Cranston (Simon & Shuster: $3.00). I have many books upon Woodrow Wilson, and I wondered what another could add to them. But the first chapter thrilled me. It has the woman's touch of human interest in the things of personal life. This absorbing story of Wilson's boyhood is just about the best possible commentary upon this lesson. For the Wilson we observe here is not only an individual, he is a symbol of young America growing up and taking over.

Mrs. Cranston makes us see greatness in the making. Wilson was not naturally a brilliant student. But the steadfast devotion to principles which he learned from his noble father and mother shaped his whole after life. His rigid self-discipline and cultivation of his aptitudes are a rare contribution to the world's "success" literature. And the quotations from some of his love letters to his gifted wife are simply at the highest level of the literature of love.

A Picutre of a Home

In Mrs. Cranston's warm portrayal of Christian home life, with its religious atmosphere, its fun, its interest in good literature and in great events, we see the basic influence in making a nation great. National wealth is not in granite hills but in human hearts, not in safe deposit boxes but in the simple fidelities which bind life together and make it fine.

From it there arises, not a mood of criticism of the delinquency of many modern homes, but a fresh sense of the greatness of the opportunity that is presented to every young man and woman who establishes a home. There is no other work in the world comparable with making a Christian home, and the training of children into right thinking and living. That man or woman is a real 'success," in the largest outreach of the word, who has guided children into ways of righteousness, high thinking, patriotism and human service.

This supreme opportunity is not alone for the prosperous and the cultivated. Burns' "Cotter's Saturday Night" is a poem to be read aloud in connection with this Lesson. We do well to count over the great men from simple homes, like Lincoln, whose foundations were laid in humble households.

The Core of Education

At the center of our Lesson text lies the great monition which has kept the Hebrew people alive as a group throughout hostile ages:—

"And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be upon thy heart; And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thy house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up."

There we have outlined the clear duty of parents. They are to recognize that they are sons and daughters of God. His agents in the nurture of childhood. The word of God is to be made central. The ignorance of the Scriptures shown by high school and college students is a disgrace to modern education, and a reflection upon parents who have failed in their primary duty. Most of us have forgotten that the father is the high priest of the family, who is the representative and minister of God. When he fails here, he not only fails religion, but he also fails the nation, to whom he owes the training of great citizens.

Grace Before Meat

Even the primary ritual of "grace before meat" has fallen out of fashion. Yet it is a primary acknowledgement of God. Children should have a part in this mealtime act of devotion. Some families sing at breakfast the familiar kindergatten song.

"Father wo thank Thee for the night,
And for the pleasant morning light;
For rest and food, and loving care,
And all that makes the world so fair."

At other meals they sing,

"God is great and God is good,
And we thank Him for this food.
By his hand must all be fed;
Give us Lord our daily bread."

When our family was four we often used the passage for the Psalms, each in turn reciting a part

1. "The eyes of all wait upon Thee.
2. "And Thou givest them their food in due season.
3. "Then openest Thy hand.
4. "And satisfieth the desire of every living creature."

Forms are endless; I have dined with Oxford dons who used an ancient Latin grace before and after the meal. I was even more impressed when, in a Kingston restaurant, I saw a whole family bow in silent thanksgiving.

Acknowledgment of God is the center of religion.

Whatever strengthens religion in the home adds stability to the national life. Millions of returning soldiers have brought with them a new sense of the preciousness of home. And we may not forget that it was in a humble Nazareth home that Jesus was trained for His great service.

Plant Seed Bred for the Southwest

Bryant's Hybrid

The farmer who makes money in the Southwest doesn't plant seed developed for New England or Kansas—he plants seed that has been tried, improved, and proven for the soil and climate in which it has to grow. Scientific inbreeding, soil and climate analysis evolved a hybrid corn for Southwest soil that gives 20% to 35% greater yield than open pollinated varieties. A product of years of research.

No. 2 - - Who Uses; What Form

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of 12 stories explaining who has to do what about his income taxes.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Generally, taxpayers are divided into two classes: Those who make under or over $5,000.

Those who made less than $5,000 in 1945 won't have to figure their tax. They'll use form W-2, the withholding receipt, or the 1040 short-form.

Those who made $5,000 or over will have to use the 1040 long-form and do their own figuring.

There's an explanation of the forms and who can use them.

Take Form W-2 first:

This is the receipt, about the size of a bank check, which a boss gives a worker to show the money earned in 1945 and the tax withheld from his wages or salary.

To use it:

BLAST WRECKS APARTMENT HOUSE—More than a score were reported injured, and a score or more dead in the explosion and fire which reduced a three-story New Orleans negro apartment house to ruins (above). (AP Wirephoto)

1946 INCOME TAX PRIMER

THREE WAYS TO FILE

A. QUICK METHOD: The simplified withholding receipt your employer gives you. Usually you may use this if your pay was less than $5,000.

B. SHORT CUT: The short form 1040. (If you earned less than $5,000, no matter how you earned it.)

C. LONG WAY ROUND: The long form 1040 must be used if your income was above $5,000, or if your deductions come to more than ten per cent of total income. But anyone MAY use it.

AP

1. Your gross income for the year—that is, total income, not just how much was left after paying expenses—must be under $5,000.

2. If you had income in addition to your wages, that income must not have been more than $100, and the total income must be under $5,000.

3. Your income must have been derived from wages, salary, dividends or interest. Note the kind of income well.

Note this, too: If your deductions for 1945—such as medical expenses, charitable contributions, and so one—were more than 10 per cent of your income—don't use form W-2. You'll lose money. Use form 1040.

Answer a few simple questions on the form W-2 receipt, send it to your internal revenue collector, and be sure you don't send any money with it.

If you still owe him any tax, he'll notify you and then you pay him. If you've been taxed too much, he'll send you a refund.

Short Form Explained

Now take the 1040 short-form.

(Form 1040 has four pages. Used one way it is the short-form. Used another way, it is the long-form.)

Using 1040 as a short-form, you generally deal only with the first page.

There you write some facts and figures about yourself—such as name, number of dependents—and the wages, salary or other income you had in 1945.

When you do that, look at the table on the back to finr your tax. It shows the tax on income up to $5,000.

The short-form can be used by anyone with income under $5,000 from any source.

Remember this, too:

No Deductions Allowed

People using Form W-2 or the 1040 short form don't list deductions, such as for medical expenses or union dues.

Don't use Form W-2 or 1040 short-orm if you have deductions of more than 10 per cent. Use the 1040 long-form.

Now take the 1040 long-form:

You have to use this and figure your own tax if your income was $5,000 or over, whether from wages or any other source.

If you have to use this form, take a flat minimum deduction of $500 for expenses, even though those expenses were far less than $500.

And you don't have to itemize your deductions when you claim that flat $500

If your actual expenses were more than $500, you can claim as much as those expenses were.

No. 3 - - Who Can Use Form W-2

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of 12 stories explaining who does what about income tax return.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Who can use Form W-2, the withholding receipt, in filing his 1945 income tax return?

If you can't, you must use Form 1040, as a short-form or long-form return, depending upon your individual case.

Form W-2—The receipt given a worker by his boss—shows how much tax regularly was withheld from his wages or salary in 1945.

You can use it:

1. If your income was less than $5,000 and practically all of it was in wages or salary from which the tax regularly was withheld.

2. If—besides your wages or salary—you had income not over $100 from interest or dividends or other wages not subject to withholding, povided that extra income did not bring the total income to $5,000.

You can't use Form W-2 for reporting income from rents, professional fees, business, patnerships, estates, trusts, or annuities.

Can husbands and wives make a combined return on Form W-2? Yes, if that combined income was less than $5,000 and fits the requirements listed above.

Examples:

1. Your salary was $3,000. Your wife's salary was $1,800. Total: $4,800. Tax regularly was withheld from both salaries. You—or your wife—additionally had $100 income from interest or dividends.

You could use Form W-2 singly or jointly.

Form W-2 Elastic

2. Your salary was $3,000. Your wife did not work but had $101 income from interest or dividends. You could not make a combined return on Form W-2 because her income from dividends or interest was more than $100.

In this case you could use Form W-2. Your wife could use the 1040 short-form. Or the pair of you could make a joint return on the 1040 short-form since your total income was under $5,000.

Suppose the combined salaries of yourself and wife—each subject to regular withholding in 1945—was $5,000 or over but individually less than $5,000.

You could file separately on Form W-2. Or your could file jointly on the 1040 long form. You could not file jointly on the 1040 short-form which is for total income less $5,000.

Community Law Different

(In the nine community property states—Arizona, California, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas anad Washington—husband and wives cannot file separtely on Form W-2.)

There's a place on Form W-2 for listing your exemptions but not for listing allowable deductions.

That's because everyone using Form W-2 automatically is given a 10 per cent deduction for such things.

If your deductions are more than 10 per cent, don't use Form W-2. Use the 1040 long-form.

There you'll have to itemize your deductions and figure out your own tax. But you can claim whatever your deductions are.

You can't use the 1040 short-form and claim deductions of more than 10 per cent. People using the 1040 short-form—like the people using Form W-2—get an automatic 10 per cent allowance for deductions.

1946 INCOME TAX PRIMER

CHOOSE YOUR FORM

A. WITHHOLDING RECEIPT saves you money if your allowable deductions are less than ten per cent of total income.

B. SHORT FORM saves you money if your work entails expenses not reimbursed in full, which can be listed on itemized separate sheet.

C. LONG FORM saves you money if deductions amount to more than ten per cent of total income.

AP

No. 4 - - Filling Out Form W-2

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth of 12 stories explaining who does what about his 1945 income taxes.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Don't send money to the Internal Revenue Collector when you mail him your 1945 income tax return on Form W-2.

Form W-2 is the receipt a boss gives a worker to show how much he earned in 1945 and how much tax was withheld from him.

The collector checks your return.

Note to husbands and wives: If you both had income in 1945 and are within the requirements for using Form W-2 then—

Don't worry whether to file separate or combined returns on form W-2. The collector, by law must figure out the cheaper way for you.

If you worked for more than one boss who withheld taxes from your 1945 wages, get a Form W-2 receipt from each.

Without all the receipts, you can't make a return on Form W-2. You'll have to use Form 1040.

If you have them all, attach them to the receipt from your last boss. That's the one you fill out and file. Don't fill out the others.

On the "original" the boss already has written your name and address, his name and address, how much money you earned, how much tax he withheld from you.

You answer the other questions on the "original."

Some Forms Different

Here's a point to remember but don't let it confuse you. Just follow the questions on the Form W-2 which you happen to have.

During 1945 the Internal Revenue Department sent out loads of Form W-2 to employers. Later in the year, to simplify the form still further, the Department sent out slightly different forms.

No matter which one your boss gives you, you can file your return on it. On one—under "exemptions"—you list yourself first, then your wife, then your child.

On the other—under "exemptions"—you list only your child.

1946 INCOME TAX PRIMER

WHEN NOT TO USE WITHHOLDING RECEIPT

A. SPEED: If you want to know your tax quickly, without waiting for the collector's notice. (You figure it out on the short form.)

B. KIND OF INCOME: If you received more than $100 from dividends, interest or wages not subject to withholding, or if you received any income from any source other than wages, dividends and interest. (Then you MUST use form 1040.)

C. BUSINESS EXPENSES: If you have rental expenses or losses from sale or exchange of property to deduct in computing total income. (These can't be listed on withholding receipt.)

AP

On this form—without specifically listing yourself and wife as exemptions—you automatically are credited with exemptions for yourself and wife.

The difference between the two forms is given here only because some readers may have one kind, some the other.

Mrs. Jack Roberts and son, Gary, of Houston have arrived for a visit in the home of Mrs. Roberts' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Boyd.

FINNS BLAME FORMER PRESIDENT FOR WAR; SENTENCED TO JAIL

HELSENKI, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Former President Risto Ryti was sentenced today to 10 years at hard labor. A special tribunal convicted him of leading Finland into war with Russia.

Seven other defendants were sentenced to imprisonment as follows:

Former Minister of Finance Vaino Tanner and former Premier Edwin Linkomies, five years and six months.

The former Minister to Berlin, Toivo Mikael Kivimaeki, five years.

Former Foreigr Minister Sir Henrik Ramsay, two years, six months.

Former Minister of Education Antti Kukkonen and the former second Minister of Finance Tyko Reinikka, two years.

The defendants were accused of engineering Finland's second war with Russia in 1941 when their country was aligned with Germany.

Karl Fagerholm, Speaker of Parliament, told the nation two days ago that Finland faced "bad times" if Russia and Great Britain should be displeased by the verdict of the special tribunal. Russian and British members from the Allied control commission here.

Ryti, 57, was Premier from Dec. 1939, when Finland was fighting her first war with Russia, until Dec. 1940, when he became president. He was re-electd president in 1943, but handed over his office to Field Marshal Baron Carl Mannerheim in 1944.

Ralph Yarborough In Atty. General Race

DALLAS Feb. 21.—(AP)—Ralph Yarborough of Austin, now with the 97th Division in Tokyo following service in the European theatre, became a conditional candidate for attorney general of Texas today.

W. R. Kittrell, Jr., secretary of the state Democratic executive committee, said that an application for a ballot place for Yarborough, accompanied by the required $100 filing fee, was filed with the committee by H. B. Harrison of La Porte and a group of other friends of Yarborough.

Kittrell said Harrisan stated that Yarborough would not be a candidate for attorney general in the event Attorney General Sellers runs for re-election.

Kittrell said that the application was the first received for the attorney general's post.

Yarborough is a former assistant attorney general.

Hepburn System Is Amazing—Even To Katherine Herself

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The Hepburn system has amazed envious movie stars for years and now Katharine says it amazes her too.

After a year's absence the willowy actress is back at MGM playing opposite Robert Taylor in "You Were There." In the past few years she has been averaging one picture a year, punctuated by stage appearances. Other stars have been viewing this arrangement with green eyes.

"It absolutely amazes me," she confessed to me. "I don't know how I get away with it. Mainly it comes from a knack of turning down stories."

Some stars worry because they don't make enough pictures. They should worry because they make too many, said the Hartford, Conn., actress.

Katie, who carried no calla lilies but wore the inevitable slacks, said movie work is "like fallong off a log."

"The studios should send their stars to the stage every year so they would appreciate working in the movies," she said.

"Road to Utopia."

In the film palaces...."Road to Utopia" (Par-90 min) has some very merry moments as well as some dull stretches. The picture tries to maintain a high quality of crossfire gaggery throughout, and naturally that is impossible. But then, a movie with Hope, Crosby and Lamour could scarcely fail to entertain. Funniest sequence: An oldtime vaudeville routine by the two Happiness Boys.

Movies Use Planes.

Something new in film locations: PRC has four planes to fly cast, crew and equipment to Alta, Utah, for ski scenes of "Avalanche." One flies the film to Hollywood daily....Joan Crawford has drunk five quarts of ginger ale as the Dipso in "Humoresque" and says she is getting tired of the stuff....Jack Oakie is using one of W. C. Fields' old suits in "Love Takes a Holiday" and he swears he found a martini in it.

Raoul Jobin, Metropolitan tenor, will arrive in Corsicana on Friday to give a song recital at Junior High School Auditorium on Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock as the second attraction of Corsicana Civic Music Association's season.

Miss Avis Harvey of New York City, national educational secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church, will be in Corsicana on Tuesday, February 26th, to address Auxiliary members from seven neighboring cities at a luncheon session at St. John's Episcopal Church.

TRANSIT STRIKE IN PENNSYLVANIA ENDS WITH PAY INCREASE

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Lancaster transit workers voted today to end their 16-day walkout which grew into a general AFL sympathy strike call.

Bus and trolley operators ratified a union-management agreement reached a little more than nine hours earlier which, they said provided a 12-cent an hour wage increase. The workers asked 25 cents an hour.

A. H. Keeler of Philadelphia, general executive board manager of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes (AFL), hailed the agreement as "one of the outstanding contracts in the transit industry."

Explaining a progressive wage rate in the new contract, Keeler said employes will receive 85 cents an hour retroactive from Sept. 27, 1945, to Feb. 6, 1946. The operators now receive 80 cents an hour.

On July 1, the rate will become 90 cents an hour and on Nov. 1, it will become 92 cents an hour for the duration of the contract, Keeler declared.

Mrs. J. Floyd Smith will have charge of the mission study programs of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist Church, which will be held in the Educational Building on the afternoons of February 25th and 26th at 3 o'clock, with "The Cross Over Africa" as the subject for presentation.

The Frost High girls won first honors in that division with a 25-14 decision over the State Home Lassies. Richland outlasted Emhouse, 17-8, in a hotly-contested defensive struggle for the third place standing.

Boyd Payne and Garland Matthews, Corsicana High school coaches, officiated the titular melees.

The Powell boys will compete in the regional Interscholastic League tournament in Dallas next week.

Sheppard, Moore and Pevehouse of the Frost Girls' were tied for high scoring honors with eight points each. Ponder made the other point.

TENNESSEE COLLEGE EXECUTIVE VISITS IN FROST SCHOOLS

FROST, Feb. 20.—(Spl.)—W. K. McCharen of the Division of Field Surveys and Research of George Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee, visited the Frost schools this week. The educator is making a survey of all schools in the 13 Southern states that are rated as community schools.

W. V. Harrison, superintendent of the Frost schools, states that McCharen recommended the local system to the State Department of Education as the school system in Texas that operates on the community school plan.

McCharen, according to Harrison, has visited in eight other states and will complete the survey in May of this year. He leaves for Oklahoma the latter part of the week to survey community schools in that state.

YANKEES DELIGHTED WITH CANAL ZONE: MAKING PROGRESS

By GAYLE TALBOT

BALBOA, C. Z., Feb. 21—(AP)—The New York Yankees have made such remarkable progress in their baseball training and are so delighted in general with their Panama camp they are virtually certain to return here next Spring.

To a man, the veterans just out of the service about whom Manager Joe McCarthy had his most serious doubts have told this writer that training here has been beneficial.

Joe DiMaggio, Joe Gordon, Tommy Henrich, Ken Sears, Phil Rizzuto and others unanimously say they are rounding into shape much faster than they had hoped.

The two prominent Panamanians who put up $30,000 cash to bring the first big league club to the Isthmus figure to begin getting their money back in large chunks today when the Yanks play their first exhibition game against the Panama All-Stars in the Olympic Stadium at Panama City.

The arena accomodates 14,500 persons and the promoters expect it to be jammed at prices ranging from $1 to $3. It will be the first of 11 games the Yanks will crowd into their remaining days in the Canal Zone before they head for St. Petersburg, Fla., to continue their training.

Panama's four professional clubs don't possess many home run sluggers and while the crowd cheered every time a Yank sailed one over the fence in the club's early batting practice, they have become so surfeited with the sight of the Yankee power that there was scarcely a peep when Charley Keller banged ont three homers in a row yesterday.

Ex-College Champ Leads In Houston Golf Tournament

HOUSTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—Earl Stewart Jr., 1941 inter-collegiate champion who won medalist honors yesterday in the qhalifying round, was the choice as the man to beat as play started today in the first round of the Houston invitation golf tournament at the Houston Country Club.

Playing over a course that was drying from recent rains, the 24-year-old Stewart, who has been out of the Army three weeks, turned in a card of 32-35—67 yesterday to lead the hottest field in the history of the tournament. So fast was the competition that it took a 75, five over par, to place in the competition flight.

The sporty layout was cut a stroke yesterday. The eighth hole was turned into a par three to protect a soggy fairway, but it was to be lengthened before the tournament ends.

Dawson Is Second

One stroke behind Stewart yesterday was Johnny Dawson of Los Angeles, who shot a 33-35—68. Dawson, who blew his chances to win the medal play yesterday on the last holes of his round, has won this tournament twice and finished as runner-up three times.

Howard Creel, who won the event in 1941 and automatically qualified as defending champion, carded a 75.

Ed White, of Houston, former Walker Cup player, and L. J. Larcade, Lafayette, La., entry, tied for third place with perfect 70s.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—(AP)—The sickest stock market in almost six years today sat up and imbibed rallying nourishment to the extent of 1 to around 5 points at the best although the convalescence was more or less sluggish.

Dealings, fast at the start, soon tapered and the ticker tape frequently halted. While advances were widely distributed near the close, top marks were trimmed in many cases. Transfers were in the vicinity of 1,500,000 shares against 2,150,000 Wednesday.

Wall Street regarded the comeback as largely technical.

Steels, motors, rails, utilities, amusements, liquors, aircraft and a wide assortment of industrials led the forward move.

Better performers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Union Pacific, U. S. Rubber, Glenn Martin, United Aircraft, Woolworth, Caterpillar Tractor, American Can, Anaconda, American Smelting, American Radiator, Du Pont, General Electric, Westinghouse and Eastman Kodak.

Secondary railway bonds hardened.

JUDGE POWELL AND W.P.BROWN,SPEAKERS AT ROTARY MEETING

PRIVILEGES RETURNING VETERANS DISCUSSED BY COMMITTEE MEMBERS

The privileges of the returning veteran were discussed by County Judge L. L. Powell and W. P. Brown, representing the Navarro County Veterans' Re-employment Committee, at a luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Wednesday in Navarro Hotel.

Judge Powell, county service officer of the Veterans' Administration, called the GI Bill of Rights "the greatest law that has ever been enacted by any nation to care for and support its veterans."

"It is the duty of a grateful public to see that provision is made for the care of veterans, as well as the widows and children of those who gave their lives in the recent great conflict," he said.

Educational Features.

Powell discussed the educational features of the bill, and explained that it also made provision for the veteran to borrow money from the government to buy a home, a farm or a business.

Brown said "the main responsibility of our committee is to protect the veterans' re-employment rights, which he was definitely assured by the selective service laws." Other members of the committee are W. P. McCammon and Mayor John C. Calhoun.

"We have encountered no opposition, although we have had peculiar problems," Brown said. "Many veterans have erroneous conceptions of their rights, and some eployers, through misinformation, have attempted to impose upon the boys. So far, we have been successful in solving all these difficulties."

Make Application.

The returning veteran must make application for his former job within 90 days after receiving his discharge, Brown stated. This does not apply to the Merchant Marine, which has a 40-day time limit.

Judge C. E. McWilliams, program cairman, introduced the two speakers.

At C. O. Ferguson's recommendation, the club went on record endorsing the educational rehabilitation program which has been proposed for Navarro county. J. C. Watson, a guest of the club, explained that the program would be offered by the Veterans' Administration working through the Navarro county board of education.

New Member.

A new member, I. C. Smith, manager of Bethlehem Supply Co., was introduced by Joe E. Butler.

Guests were C. T. Young, J. C. Watson, C. F. Milburn, Terry Coats of Paris, Fred Deaton of Dallas, A. E. Hickerson of Conroe, Robbie Robinson of Fort Worth, and Milton Spurgeon and Toby Morton, Junior Rotarians.

D. D. Murray proposed that the club entertain members of the Corsicana High school basketball team, just completing its season. He was instructed to carry out these plans.

DISCHARGED — Charles O'Neal Daniel, PhM2c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Daniel, 517 North Fourteenth street, received his discharge at Camp Wallace, Feb. 16. He entered the navy on Jan. 9, 1942, served overseas twenty four months, and was last stationed at San Pedro, Cal. Daniel was assigned to bases in Australia, New Guinea, and was attached to a unit at Pearl Harbor for fourteen months. Sea duty was served on the U. S. S. Fulton. He is at present residing with his parents. His father is a linotype operator for the Daily Sun.

Claude Carr Plans Enter University

Claude Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Carr of Corsicana, a corporal in the U. S. Marines, is home with a discharge. He plans to enter the University of Texas this Fall and finish his law course. Carr studied law in Columbus University in Washington before he entered government service and later the Marines and lacks about a year getting his degree.

This committee of nine will represent the board of 73 members, working with the City Commission and other civic groups in planning Corsicana's future growth and development.

Other steps were taken to make a permanent organization of the Corsicana Planning Board. The president named a committee of three, Julius Jacobs, chairman, Mrs. Lynne A. Wortham and O. L. Albritton, to draft a constitution and by-laws. This document will be prepared by Friday and will be presented to an executive committee session Monday, the time and place to be announced later.

Loyalty Pledged.

Pledges of loyalty and cooperation were voiced by Mayor John C. Calhoun, Police Commissioner Fred A. Prince and Street Commissioner Travis Fullwood. The presiding officer also asked for, and received, a sign of loyalty and support from every member of the board present.

"This is not a one man's job or a one man's program," Martin said. "Your time, your cooperation and your sympathy will be needed. I personally pledge my interest and co-operation to the City Commission and to any other progressive group in the city."

Jacobs, in presenting a motion calling for the election of officers and drafting of a constitution, voiced a plea for "whole-hearted cooperation."

"I hope we will lay aside party politics and personalities as we enter this undertaking," the attorney said. "These small things must not enter into it."

Later in the evening, the president reaffirmed Jacobs' sentiments: "Neither politics nor personalities will enter into our ranks," he pledged. "I am a great believer in democratic process. This organization is communitywide. It is not handpicked. The representatives speak for you with authority and prestige."

Mayor Calhoun, asked to express his sentiments, stated: "I, of course, am in complete harmony with this undertaking. I am deeply gratified that the citizenship is interested in the city. We need your cooperation. We want your help. There are many civic problems which go beyond the sphere of the City Commission. This is the first movement of a great forward movement. I believe Corsicana will go forward with the state and nation."

Commissioners Prince and Fullwood voiced similar expressions of cooperation.

Need Planning Engineer.

Legal, financial, and technical advice will be sought in planning Corsicana's future, the Planning Board president revealed. "If finances permit, I think we should employ an efficient engineer, especially trained in such matters, to plan the program we have in mind," he said. "We can't do this in a day. We can't do it in a year, but all of us working together ought to be able to do it in five years. Be patient with us and we will be loyal to you."

Thank Committee.

The president entertained a motion, which was presented and passed, expressing appreciation to a committee of five, the Rev. Erwin F. Bohmfalk, Mrs. Myrtle Dockum, Mrs. Wortham, J. Floyd Smith and the Rev. A. L. Moore, which determined the eligibility of organizations for representation on the board, and to N. Suttle Roberts, who served as temporary chairman at the first mass meeting, and presided over the opening of last night's session.

E. C. Mueller again served as temporary secretary, and ballots were counted by W. H. Norwood and C. O. Curington.

Fifty-four of the 73 official board members attended the meeting and participated in the voting.

The session ended on a prophetic note when Ada Powell, negro woman known about town as "Mammy" stood to face the crowd of more than 400: "We won't get anywhere divided," she said. "If we get Jesus in our hearts we will work together."
